

Cork Wall Art or Table Trivets

The bold grain of the frames coupled with the texture of the collection of wine corks make these pieces pleasing to look at and irresistible to touch. Groupings made from the variety of shapes and sizes make stylish accents on walls in kitchens, dining areas, wine bars or just about anywhere. The same pieces double as a table trivets to protect table surfaces from hot cookware.

Each piece is individually hand crafted- not from commercially sold kits. The pieces shown are made with American red oak frames stained in a provincial oak color and filled with re-purposed used wine corks. Prior to filling, the entire frame and hardboard base are covered with an environmentally safe water-based clear satin finish. Other wood types and stain color choices are available that may impact pricing.

Our trivets make a functional, unique and thoughtful gift idea that will last for generations.

Use and Care

The frames have a perimeter slot on the inside bottom to enable hanging on to the head of an anchor screw for flush mounting on wall surfaces. The frame bottoms have felt pads to protect contacted surfaces. Cork is a very good insulator and durable material. Clean/dust with a damp cloth occasionally. To clean drips or spills, clean with a damp cloth or lightly rinse in warm water and dry immediately. Try not to allow drips and spills to dry before cleaning. Do not immerse in water. The clear satin finish is water resistant, not water repellent. No other care for the cork is required.
